Experimental Station Field Day

The annual Field Day at the Lethbridge Experimental Station is being held on Wednesday, July 26th starting at 9:00 a.m. Farmers in southern Alberta should make a special attempt to attend this important event.

This year the program will emphasize irrigation farming. During the last few years there has been a rapid increase in the amount of irrigation being practised in southern Alberta. Sprinkler irrigation, which is a rather new introduction has aroused the interest of many of the farmers and no doubt, many will have questions concerning the merits of sprinkler vs flood irrigation, the proper cultural practice for irrigated land, maintaining soil fertility and the crops to grow that will return the greatest revenue per acre. The comparative returns from livestock production on irrigated pastures as compared to special crops and no doubt the matter of grain production is in the minds of many people.

Over 100 Attending Annual Swim Courses

54 Beginners This Year—Increased Interest in Swimming

Greatly increased interest in swimming is evidenced by the large number who have signed up for the swimming classes which commenced at the Memorial Swimming Pool this week.

Over 100 boys and girls, men and women, are registered for the courses and of these 54 are taking the beginners' class, with the rest being in the junior, intermediate and senior classes. This is by far the biggest registration for the annual swimming classes since the pool has opened.

Instructors, all of whom have completed the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Course, are David Mitchell, Duane Neville, Jerry LaRoche, Donald Mitchell and Mervin Brooks, all local boys who in the past few years have developed into very capable swimmers and instructors.

The swimming classes are sponsored jointly by the Lions Club and the Vulcan Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The increased interest in swimming is also reflected in the number of ladies who go swimming from 9:30 to 10:30 each morning, a special hour set aside for their exclusive use of the pool. Last year there were only eight ladies in this class, at which swimming instruction is also given—this year there are 31.

A new open fence is now in the process of construction at the front of the pool and will be completed shortly and the heating equipment and pool itself is in top shape under the competent supervision of Donald MacDonald and with David Mitchell as lifeguard.

Vulcan battery: Don Campbell to Max Kehr.

Special tours have been arranged for the ladies to include, lawns, shrubs, and gardens. Amusement will be provided for the children in the form of races, games, and free movies.

Lightning Damages Farm Home

The Wednesday evening's storm brought welcome moisture to parts of the district but the lightning which accompanied the storm caused damage to at least one farm home in the east district.

A heavy bolt struck the wind-charger tower at the Warden farm nine miles east of town and travelled along the wires into the house, where it completely destroyed the sixteen storage batteries in the basement and ripped out wiring and every electric receptacle in the house. Extensive damage was caused.

Mrs. Chas. Recor Dead At Age 81

An old-time resident of the Lomond and Vulcan district, Mrs. Chas. E. Recor passed away on June 19 at Kirkland, Washington, at the age of 81, following a brief illness. Mrs. Recor had resided at Kirkland since 1922.

Left to mourn are her husband at Kirkland; two sons, George at Kirkland and Billy at Spokane. 4 daughters, Mrs. F. Rutten, Coal-dale, and Mrs. Otis Hendrix, Mrs. R. Brown and Mrs. C. Edgar, all of Kirkland; 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Cemetery Cleanup Next Monday

A cemetery cleanup bee, sponsored by the Lions Club, will be held Monday evening, July 24, in an effort to complete the work of cutting the grass and hedges and generally getting the cemetery in top condition.

The bee will start at 7 p.m. and all interested residents are asked to lend a hand by coming and bringing rakes, clippers, grass whips, etc.

A great improvement in the cemetery was made last year as a result of this project of the Lions Club and further work was done one evening earlier this summer. Members of the Lions Club are asking the aid of other residents of the town and district next Monday evening and the appearance of the cemetery will be greatly improved if a good number turn out to aid in this work.

War Veterans Allowances

Imperial and Allied veterans resident in Canada for 20 years, made eligible for War Veterans Allowance at the last session of Parliament, may receive retroactive payments of the allowance to April 1 providing they apply by July 31, it is announced by Hon. Milton F. Gregg, VC, Minister of Veterans Affairs.

"We have been accepting applications from these veterans for several weeks and it is anticipated that payments will commence shortly to those found eligible," said DVA district administrator J. Sutton in Calgary today.

Amendment to the WVA Act extending its benefits to Imperial and Allied veterans, and also providing for decentralization of administration in order to speed up adjudication of applications, was given Royal Assent about six weeks ago. Effective date of the extension was April 1, and accordingly applications received prior to the end of July may be considered to have been made as from that date.

Applications filed after July 31 will be considered as from the day they are received by the DVA district office, and retroactive payments in these cases will not be made.

Applicants for WVA, whose monthly rates are $70.83 married, $40.41 single, must have 20 years residence in Canada and have reached their 60th birthday (unless unemployable because of physical disability). Widows of Imperials who had 20 years Canadian residence may apply at age 55.

Further details may be obtained from the Veterans Welfare Services, Department of Veterans Affairs, 217-7th Ave. W., Calgary, Alta.

Vulcan Team Reaches Finals Champion Baseball Tournament

Defeat Stavelly and Lomond First Day;

The Vulcan baseball team, which has been showing great improvement the past few games, really settled down to play ball at the Lions' three-day baseball tournament at Champion this week and, as a result, is now in the finals of the big $660 tournament.

In the first game Tuesday afternoon Pitcher Ben Dann went the full distance and, with tight, errorless support from his teammates, gained a shut-out victory over the Stavelly team. Final score Vulcan 7, Stavelly 0. Vulcan battery: Dana to Spaeth.

The second game of the afternoon saw the Lomond team, strengthened with some top-notch free-lance players, gain a close 4-3 victory over the favored Champion club. Lomond took an early lead in the first two innings and still held a one-run margin at the end of the game. Champion battery: Smith and Siler to Hagg.

The third game of the day saw Vulcan matched against Lomond and was another crowd-pleaser. "Iron Man" Dann again pitched a full nine innings and the rest of the team again gave him the best possible support as they played errorless ball to win by a three-run margin against the strong Lomond aggregation. Final score: Vulcan 5, Lomond 2. Vulcan battery: Dann to Spaeth.

Wednesday Results

In the first game, Carmangay defeated Parkland by a 3-1 score and in the second game Picture Butte defeated Blackie, also by a 3-1 score.

The day's final between Carmangay and Picture Butte was rained out and was scheduled to be played Thursday afternoon, with the winner meeting Vulcan at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Phillips-Husky Oil Team Start Deep Test Well

Heavy Rotary Rig Soon in Operation; To Go To 8,500 ft.

The Vulcan district is again to be the setting for a deep-test well as the result of recent seismicographic surveys made here.

The big Phillips Oil Co. has combined forces with Husky Oil and Refining Co. of Alberta to drill for oil on the O. B. Roe farm, seven miles east and three miles south of Vulcan.

The rotary rig to be used is reported to be the biggest in Western Canada and is owned by Husky.

The Phillips-Husky wildcat will go to a depth of at least 8,500 ft. in the search for oil. Seismograph work done in this area indicated the existence of a favorable structure at this location east and south of town and a crew of men have been at work for the past week preparing the site.

The Barnsdall-Honolulu team backed a deep-test well west of Vulcan two years ago but neither gas nor oil was found in commercial quantities.

The progress of the Phillips-Husky well will be watched with interest by town and district residents.

Farewell Party For Reid Family

Some 60 members of St. Andrew's Catholic Church and other friends gathered in the Parish hall Thursday evening, to tender a surprise-farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. O. Reid and their daughter, Joan, who will leave shortly to reside in Calgary.

The Reids will be greatly missed in Vulcan, where they have made their home for the past 8 years, during which time Mr. Reid was C.P.R. agent. He is also a member of the local Lions Club and Canadian Legion branch, and Mrs. Reid and Joan have been staunch supporters of St. Andrew's church, and have a large circle of friends. Mr. Reid has retired from the C.P.R., just three years short of his full term of service, due to ill health.

A pleasant social evening of cards and a program, with Mr. J. Gerding acting as master of ceremonies, was much enjoyed. Rev. Fr. Ritter, Mr. Charles Taylor and Mr. John Jamison each spoke briefly and expressed regret of all in losing such valued citizens.

Mr. Gerding, on behalf of those assembled, made a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Reid and presented Joan with a gift from her friends. He conveyed the best wishes of all for much happiness in their new home.

Refreshments were served by a committee convened by Mrs. L. Oehlheiser.

Economic-Industrial Survey of Town Made By Prov. Govt.

J. G. Morris of the Department of Economic Affairs, Provincial Government, was in Vulcan this week conducting an economic and industrial survey of the town.

This survey is being conducted in all cities, towns and villages in the province as part of the provincial government's plan to help various industries locate in Alberta and the information thus gained has proved very valuable in finding suitable locations for different kinds of industries, both large and small.

The survey consist of a comprehensive report on such points as location, soil, history, living conditions, administration, fire protection, taxes, sewer and water, power, fuel, local resources, health services, transportation, education, cultural, social and athletic activities, businesses, trading area and population.

A synopsis of the report will be published in the Advocate as soon as it becomes available.

Further details were not available at the time of going to press.

Showers Improve Local Crop Picture

Despite the absence of a real general rain, widespread scattered showers of the past two weeks have greatly aided crops in this area and the outlook now is for an average yield in the Vulcan district.

Showers have ranged from light to very heavy over the district. Although seeding was generally late, about 90 percent of the crop is headed out. There has been no hail damage to date in the immediate Vulcan area.

Shower Honors July Bride-elect

A surprise bridal shower honoring Miss Anne Lee, whose marriage to Mr. Jack Middleton will be an event of Saturday, was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bus Carnegie who was assisted by Mrs. James O'Reilly.

A gaily decorated watering can overflowing the bridal chair, and colorful summer flowers made the room very attractive. Corsages were presented on arrival to the bride-elect, to her aunt Mrs. Clements and to Mrs. Middleton. The program consisted of a contest, reading by Mrs. Scobie, recitation by Miss Janet Ware, followed by a sing-song which featured two songs composed especially for Anne and Jack.

Miscellaneous gifts from the 23 guests were then carried to the bride-elect in a decorated basket while Mrs. Ivan Higa and Mrs. Urquhart sang a duet. Miss Monna Middleton assisted in unwrapping the gifts.

Darrel Maisey took flash bulb pictures during the evening.

A delicious lunch was then served by the hostesses.

Public Virtue

FOR MANY OF US, the fact that an institution or business is publicly owned gives to it a special sanctity which is never attained by privately owned and operated undertakings.

That a hospital, a railway, a broadcasting corporation, or a skating rink is owned by the taxpayers, and operated by people appointed by them or by their elected representatives is, when you come to think of it, no particular reason why it should be venerated and held above criticism.

Far, far too often private institutions and businesses offer better service at lower cost than do their public counterparts. The private owner, with his all at stake and with no subsidies to fall back on, matches his revenue and expenditure as closely and carefully as possible. Dependent as he is, moreover, on public goodwill, he goes out of his way to solicit patronage to a degree which is often unknown to publicly operated enterprises.

Far too often public institutions suffer from exactly the same ills as do private concerns and monopolies. With the public purse to fall back on and the sanctity of public ownership behind which to hide, their efficiency is frequently below par.

Public ownership is justified in certain instances. There are some things which can be done better and more efficiently through government ownership.

But the public generally is best served by private owners and operators subject, where need be, to government control but without the gross inefficiency which so often accompanies projects dependent on the public purse. —C.W.N.A.

The Little Ships

Ten years ago this month, the little ships of Britain rescued almost the entire British Expeditionary Force, surrounded at Dunkirk by the Wermacht. The "New York Times," on June 1st, reprints its leader of June 1st, 1940:—

"So long as the English tongue survives, the word Dunkirk will be spoken with reverence. For in that harbour, in such a hell as never blazed on earth before, at the end of a lost battle, the rags and blemishes that have hidden the soul of democracy fell away. There, beaten but unconquered, in shining splendour, she faced the enemy.

"They sent away the wounded first. Men died so that others could escape. It was not so simple a thing as courage, which the Nazis had in plenty. It was not so simple a thing as discipline, which can be hammered into men by a drill sergeant. It was not the result of careful planning, for there could have been little. It was the common man of the free countries, rising in all his glory out of mill, office, factory, mine, farm and ship, applying to war the lessons learned when he went down the shaft to bring out trapped comrades, when he hurled the lifeboat through the surf, when he endured poverty and hard work for his children's sake.

"This shining thing in the souls of free men Hitler cannot command or attain or conquer. He has crushed it, where he could, from German hearts. "It is the great tradition of democracy. It is the future. It is victory."

The men and women who don't appreciate baby talk never had one of their own.

Summer never really comes until we've dipped our weary-weary feet into a refreshing country brook.

Now if it could only put floors and ceilings on the thermometer, what a wonderful government we'd have.

Decision of the dairy farmers of Canada to finance and direct an advertising program for dairy products makes good sense. Sound advertising is essential to intelligent marketing.

We often wonder if our governments might not be run just a bit more efficiently if we remembered that our politicians and civil servants are not our bosses but rather hired hands, hired to work for us.

According to Old Testament Professor N. H. Parker, of McMaster University, Hamilton, Noah is one of the great unappreciated financial geniuses of all times—he floated a large company when the rest of the world was in liquidation.

GRASSHOPPERS

W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that there is still considerable grasshopper activity in the Provost, Bo-do and Compeer areas. Although some grain has been destroyed much can still be saved if farmer's remain on the alert. Grasshoppers are also active in the Oyen-Hanna region extending over to the Drumheller area. Sprays at this time are by far the most effective form of control, advises
Mr. Lobay. In the Lomond area, due to effective cultural control,
the outbreak proved less severe than was anticipated.

Grasshoppers have appeared in the Peace River country but the infestation has not been general.
Mr. Lobay says that infestations are localized along the southern fringes of Lesser Slave Lake, and in the areas of Eaglesham and Bezanon. Damage to date has been confined to pasture land and legume fields. The situation in these areas is still localized but farmers who notice grasshoppers
in their fields are advised to poison them without delay. Poison bait may be obtained from the mixing station at Eaglesham. Sprays are available at Faust and from the Municipal office at Grande Prairie.

GRASS-LEGUME MIXTURES

Under semi-arid prairie conditions, adapted cultivated grasses when grown alone, have a tendency to fall off in pasture carrying capacity and in hay yield after a few years.

Experiments have shown conclusively that the addition of a legume to these grasses helps to maintain the hay yield and pasture carrying capacity over a longer period. Alfalfa is the legume most generally used in grass mixtures on the prairies, although sweet clover may be used under certain conditions.

Alfalfa will persist unless grazed too closely. It also tends to give a fair amount of herbage during periods of drought because of its deep rooting system.

From the results of pasture experiments conducted at the Experimental Station, Scott, Sask., it has been found that a grass alfalfa mixture provides pasturage for longer period as the hot weather of summer approaches. Furthermore, in a mixture with brome grass, it helps in overcoming the so-called "sod bound" condition. In a mixture with grass, the hazard

of bloating from pasturing alfalfa alone is greatly lessened.

While experiments have shown that four to five pounds of alfalfa per acre would be ideal in a mixture, two pounds are recommended because of the relatively high price of the seed and even one pound per acre would be beneficial.

The mixture that is a standard at Scott, says A. G. Kusch, is the following: brome—four pounds, crested wheat grass—three pounds
and alfalfa—two pounds per acre.
A heavier rate than three pounds of crested wheat grass per acre results in this grass dominating in about three years. This mixture gives a stand which is not too heavy for dry conditions. Heavier stands result in shorter growth, especially in dry seasons, thus giving less hay and pasture.

On land which is slightly rolling, the above mixture is very suitable, for crested wheat grass will dominate on the droughty hills while alfalfa and brome will do well in the depressions where moisture conditions are a little better.

The crested wheat grass provides pasture very early in the spring and in the late fall if moisture conditions are favourable, while during the heat of mid-summer,
the brome and alfalfa will provide most of the pasture.

POISON GAS IN MOTOR CARS

In a recent investigation, one out of every 20 cars picked at random and tested with instruments, contained sufficient carbon monoxide gas in the passenger compartment to impair driving judgement seriously enough to cause accidents.

Here are some simple rules to guard against this poison gas:

1. Never have your motor running while garage doors are closed.
2. Never have all windows of car completely closed. Children sleeping on rear seat of closed or poorly ventilated car have been asphyxiated.
3. Have a regular inspection of the exhaust system.
4. Do not run the motor of the car for long at a time with the car standing still.

EXTEND ROAD MARKING PROGRAMS IN ALBERTA

Extension of road marking is receiving special attention this year by branches of the Alberta Motor Association.

The improvement of directional signs on secondary highways in particular was commended when directors of the organization held their annual midsummer meeting in Calgary last month. This was noted particularly in the southern part of the province.

Indicating the A.M.A.'s program, the financial report for the six months period ended March 31, last, showed total outlays on highway signs amounted to $2,723, which included $1,167 contributed by the provincial body.

Branches in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge are giving attention to extension of road marking this year. Calgary has an extensive program while the Edmonton branch expects to spend $2,000 this year on this phase of its activities. The municipal districts also have indicated their full co-operation.

Responsibility for marking of main highways has been undertaken by the provincial government.

TWO of the REASONS WHY

the G-4 HARVESTOR EXCELLS

1. Simple, Thorough, Threshing Mechanism. The efficient rasp-bar cylinder and one-piece concave threshing mechanism provides a positive rubbing action, similar to rubbing kernels of grain in the palms of your hands. This original MM feature permits thorough separation of the grain from its chaff or husk without breaking the straw or cracking kernels.

2. Single Unit Construction. The header and thresher are built as one unit and balanced over the tubular main axle. The thresher body counterbalances the header. This makes the Harvester easy to handle in the field and permits quick adjustments of cutting heights. The frame is of heavy-duty, bridge-trussed, structural steel for strength. Yet the Harvester is light and easy to pull.
